

MAGARITA

as sung by Israel Kamakawiwoole

G C7 G C7

On a hilltop in Tahiti as I gaze across the bay

At the island of Moorea standing in the day

And a lovely Margarita serving cool Hinano beer

I'll be a fool in paradise if I'm a fool out here

Yo ra na, can you stand the heat

Yo ra na, hey dancing in bare feet

Yo ra na, when you laugh at me

Yo ra na, hey I'm in ecstasy

My name is Magarita and the salt upon your lips

Tell me lemon and tequila is the flavor of your kiss

All the magic and the beauty and the humor of this isle

Is captured like the goldfish in the sparkle of your smile

The sunshine warms your mountain and it paints you golden brown

These water laps around you where I only hope to drown

The coconut plantations, the sea and sky are blue

The south pacific islands they are all caressing you

The crimson dress you're wearing with nothing underneath

The flower there behind your ear the grass beneath your feet

Magarita, Magarita please dance with me tonight

We will dance together where the stars are shining bright

Magarita, Magarita I come from far away

Let's go take a dive down in Makava'i Bay

Magarita, Magarita we pokin' Hinalea

We go in the dark and we don't need a spear
