

Kāua I Ka Huahua‘i

^G
‘Auhea wale ana ‘oe
^{G7}
E ka‘u mea e li‘a nei
^C ^G
Mai hō‘apa‘apa mai ‘oe
^{D7} ^G
O loa‘a pono kāua

Oh do pay heed
Desire of my heart
Don't you procrastinate
Lest we be discovered

hui

^G
Kāua i ka huahua‘i
^{G7}
E ‘uhene lā i pili ko‘olua
^C ^G
Pukuku‘i lua i ke ko‘eko‘e
^{D7} ^G
Hanu lipo o ka palai

chorus:
You and I in the upwelling rush
Teasing and clinging as companions
Cuddling together in the chill
Deeply inhaling the scent of fern

tag

^C ^G ^{D7} ^G ^{G7}
Auē tāua
^C ^G ^{D7} ^G
Auē tāua

tag:
Oh my, you and I
Oh my, you and I

^G
He aloha au iā ‘oe
^{G7}
I kāu hanahana pono
^C ^G
La‘i a‘e ke kaunu me iala
^{D7} ^G
Hō‘apa‘apa i ka manawa

I do love you
For the perfect warmth you exude
Romance is a delight with that one
Causing the heart to tarry

Composed by Leleiōhoku as a love song around 1860, it was revised by Johnny Noble in 1936 and again several years later with the addition of silly English lyrics and a nonsense "Hawaiian" version and renamed the Hawaiian War Chant.