

Nā Hala O Naue

^F Nani wale nā hala, 'eā, 'eā ^{C7} O Naue i ke kai, 'eā, 'eā	Beautiful are the hala trees of Naue by the sea
^F Ke 'oni a'ela, 'eā, 'eā ^{C7} Pili mai Hā'ena, 'eā, 'eā	Swaying there Hā'ena draws near
^F 'Ena aku nā maka, 'eā, 'eā ^{C7} O nā manu i ka pua, 'eā, 'eā	The eyes are bright As birds search for blossoms
^F A 'ike i ka lehua, 'eā, 'eā ^{C7} Miki'ala i laila, 'eā, 'eā	On spying the lehua They rush to be there
^F I laila nō au, 'eā, 'eā ^{C7} Me ka mana'o pū, 'eā, 'eā	I too am there With the same intention
^F Nani wale ka nahele, 'eā, 'eā ^{C7} I puā i ke 'ala, 'eā, 'eā	The forest is beautiful Suffused with perfume
^F Ke 'ala laua'e, 'eā, 'eā ^{C7} 'O ka pua mokihana, 'eā, 'eā	The scent of laua'e fern And mokihana berry
^F 'Oni aku nā Hono, 'eā, 'eā ^{C7} Ka pua o Pi'ilani, 'eā, 'eā	One of Maui's own moves forth The blossom of chief Pi'ilani
^F 'O ko'u lei ia, 'eā, 'eā ^{C7} 'O ua la'i lani, 'eā, 'eā	That indeed is my lei That heavenly serenity
^F Ha'ina ka inoa, 'eā, 'eā ^{C7} 'O Kaleleonālani, 'eā, 'eā	Tell then of the name Kaleleonālani

J. Kahinu wrote this song, which is often performed with the pū'ili, or split bamboo. Kaleleonālani is the name given to Queen Emma, wife of Kamehameha IV, after the deaths of her son and husband. 1888.