

Niu Haohao

<sup>F C7</sup> Na wai, na wai nō 'oe a'e
<sup>F</sup> Pakele aku, pakele aku
<sup>C7</sup> I ka wai, ka wai o ka niu
<sup>F F7</sup> O ka niu haohao, niu haohao
<sup>Bb Bbm</sup> He ma'ū, ma'ū, ma'ū
<sup>F</sup> I ka pu'u ke moni
<sup>C7 F</sup> Kāohi, kāohi mālie ai ke kīleo

Who, who indeed
 Can save you, save you
 From the juice, the juice
 Of the young coconut, young coconut
 So moist, moist, moist
 In the throat when swallowed
 Pressing gently, gently over the palate

<sup>F</sup> He pakika (he pakika)
<sup>G7</sup> He pahe'e (he pahe'e)
<sup>C7</sup> He pakika i kahi wai
<sup>F</sup> O ka 'āina nui

chorus:
 Slick
 Slippery
 Slick with water
 From the continent

Bina Mossman writes about the smooth consistency of the young coconut, so delectable. 1924.
