

Pālolo

^C Ho'i ke aloha a i ^{A7} Pālolo ^{D7}
^{G7} I ka ua Līlīlehua e kilihune nei ^C

Love returns to Pālolo
 To the Līlīlehua rain misting down

^C Ka ua nō ia 'olu ka mana'o ^{A7} ^{D7}
^{G7} Hō'oni a'e nei i ku'u pu'uwai ^C

It is the rain that soothes the mind
 Stirring up feelings in my heart

^C Kani a ka leo o ke kolohala ^{A7} ^{D7}
^{G7} I ka ulu kukui honehone nei ^C

The call of the pheasant sounds
 Melodious in the kukui groves

^C Pumehana kāua i ke aloha ^{A7} ^{D7}
^{G7} I ka pili i ke anu o ke kuahiwi ^C

You and I are warmed by love
 Together in the cold of the mountain

^C Ua lawa kāua e ke aloha ^{A7} ^{D7}
^{G7} Honi iho nei ho'i i ka pu'uwai ^C

We two are satisfied my love
 Having been touched in the heart

^C Ha'ina 'ia mai ana ka puana ^{A7} ^{D7}
^{G7} I ka ua Līlīlehua e kilihune nei ^C

Tell the story through the refrain
 Of the Līlīlehua rain misting down

Līlīlehua is the name of a chilly rain and wind, famous in Pālolo, O'ahu, referred to in this song by Charles E. King. 1917.
